REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin is hereby called to meet at Madison at 10 o'clock a m, on Wednesday, July 23, A. D., 1879, for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers to be elected at the next general election and to transact such other business as may be deemed appropriate.

Each Senate and each Assembly district of the State is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

We also invite the Republicans of the State, and all who are in sympathy with the principles and policy of the Republican party, to attend a mass meeting to be held in the Capitol Park, in Madison, at 2 o'clock p m, on Wednesday, July 23d, for the purpose of appropriately celebrating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the organization of the Republican party in Wisconsin. It is especially desired that as many as possible of those who participated at the meeting in July, 1854, will be present. Distinguished speakers from this and other States will be secured to address the meeting. HORACE RUBLEE, Chairman.

R H BAKER, CHAS LULING,
CHARLES PALMETIER, G W CARTER,
E O JONES, J H FOSTER,
E E WOODMAN, L B SALE,
J H WAGGONER, A A ARNOLD,
E BOWEN, H A TAYLOR,
J R BRIGHAM, J O RAYMOND,
L F FRISBY, S S VAUGHN,

Republican State Central Committee.

Madison, June 18, 1879.

What Judge Davis can't soothe with his syrup he will smash with his elephantine feet.

The Democrats had all they wanted of the extra session, and yet they are not happy.

The Greenbackers of Maine expect that lightning will strike twice in the same place. The Demo-Greenback-Confederate ticket can't win in Maine in 1879.

Next to Presidential vetoes and Executive backbone, the Democrats are troubled about the present harmony and vigor of the Republican party. They already see the handwriting on the wall.

The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier is a Democratic paper of wide circulation and influence in the South. Its Democracy is deep seated, and yet in its issue of last week it had the boldness to say: "We do not know of a single instance in South Carolina where the presence of United States troops at the polls has prevented any Democrat from voting. We object to the presence of troops at the polls on high constitutional grounds, not because of any harm the troops have done the Democratic party." How does this sound in the ears of the Wisconsin Democratic newspapers which have done so much howling about troops at the polls?

Colonel J. A. Watrous, of Fond du Lac, Grand Worthy Chief Templar of Wisconsin, and a journalist of ability, experience, and well-earned reputation in this State, has purchased an interest in the Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph. This arrangement will place on that widely popular journal, two of the most brilliant editors in Wisconsin. That paper has been made a success by the excellent judgment of Colonel Calkins, and his valuable experience, his varied information, and his clear, forcible, and racy style of writing. We judge the Sunday Telegraph will now make bolder strides than ever toward popular favor. Two more capable men can not be found in the State, and their time and talent will be judiciously used to make the Telegraph one of the most readable and useful family journals published in Wisconsin.

The New York Tribune in giving a review of the Democratic backdown, makes some singular blunders in relation to the dates of the President's vetoes. Of the five vetoes, it names but one date correctly. The Tribune says the 1st veto was sent to Congress on the 30th of April, whereas it was vetoed on the 29th; it claims the 2d veto was made on the 13th of May, but it was made on the 12th; it makes the third veto bear date the 30th of May—Decoration Day. There was no Congress that day, and besides that, the veto was sent to the House on the 29th, and it bore that date. The 4th veto, the Tribune announces, was made on the 24th of June, but the fact is it was signed and delivered to the House on the 23d of June. The Tribune says the 5th veto was made on the 30th of June, which is right. The Tribune may not regard correct dates of special importance, but inasmuch as a miss is as good as a mile, and the vetoes have a historic value, the dates on which they were made should not be misstated.

When that eminent Democrat and prophet John G. Thompson, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Ohio, said the other day that General Ewing could not be elected governor, he was immediately deposed and counted a bad Democrat.—Janesville Gazette.

In view of the fact that Mr. Thompson never made use of the language above imputed to him, and the other fact that he has not been deposed at all, the above extract is valuable as a bit of news.—Madison Democrat.

In view of the fact that Mr. Thompson made use of the language above imputed to him, and the other fact that he has been deposed at General Ewing's earnest request, the above extract is a valuable bit of news to the public if not to certain Democratic politicians. The fact is General Ewing was not willing to trust Thompson with the management of the campaign in Ohio, because there is a peculiar state of feeling among the Democrats in that State—a division of sentiment which threatens to hurl the party from power—and Thompson having no faith in Ewing's success, and saying so publicly, he was forced out of the Chairmanship of the State Central Committee. His successor is Frank McKinney, an ex-Congressman, of moderate ability, of no experience, a soft money man, and who don't know enough to know that the fate of General Tom Ewing, as a gubernatorial candidate, is sealed.

THE NEWS.

The Great Storm of Wednesday Night in Minnesota.

An Unprecedented Rain Fall in St. Paul, with Thunder and Hail,

And a Cyclone Sweeping across Southern Minnesota,

With a Terrible Destruction of Life and Property.

Horrible Steamboat Disaster on Lake Quinsigamond, Mass.

A Partial List of Fatal Accidents on the Fourth.

John F. Seymour Found Dead in the Grounds of the Theological Seminary, New York.

THE STORM.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 4—The prostration of the wires by the storm has prevented a report of the great storm of Wednesday night until to-day. The storm consisted of an unprecedented rain-fall in St. Paul, thunder and hail throughout the State, and a cyclone sweeping across Southern Minnesota from the southwest corner to a point on the Mississippi River above Red Wing, where it crossed into Wisconsin. The destruction of life and property is terrible.

SHOT DEAD.

A 7-Year-Old Boy Playing Outside His Parent's House, Falls Dead with a Bullet in His Brain.

CHICAGO, July 5—By far the saddest of all the "accidents" resulting yesterday, from criminal recklessness in the handling of firearms, remains to be told.

At 7:30 o'clock last night, John Tchye 7 years old, was playing outside his home, 241 Ogden avenue. He had no revolver. The front door of the house was open, and his father and mother were just inside. Suddenly missing the sound of his voice for a few moments, his parents fearing he had strayed off, went out, and were surprised to find him lying prone upon the sidewalk. They ran and raised him up, only to find he was quite dead. A bullet, a stray shot probably, had entered just over the right eye and penetrated the brain.

A MYSTERY.

John F. Seymour, of New York, Found Dead in the Grounds of the Theological Seminary.

NEW YORK, July 4—A piercing scream from the grounds of the General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which occupied the blocks bounded by Ninth and Tenth avenues and Twenty and Twenty-first streets, in this streets, in this city, aroused the people living in that neighborhood shortly after 2:30 o'clock Friday morning. John F. Seymour, cousin and brother in-law of Bishop Seymour, dean of the college, had been found dead near a small grove of trees in the grounds by his wife. His breast bore a pistol-ball wound, the blood from which had saturated his clothing. He was cold and stiff, and had been dead for some hours. The affair causes much excitement, following so soon upon the Hull murder. Bishop Seymour has no family, but his brother-in-law with his wife, lived with him. The latter has looked after his household affairs for a number of years.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.

Horrible Steamboat Disaster on Lake Quinsigamond—A Schedule of the Other Fatal Accidents.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 4—At Lake Quinsigamond, this afternoon, the steamer Isaac Davis, loaded with passengers, careened, the hurricane deck broke off, and scores of passengers were thrown into the lake. There were about 200 passengers on the boat—100 on the hurricane deck, and no opportunity to get off. The boat rolled over more, catching the gunwale on a spile, became fast, and the great weight caused the supporters of the hurricane deck to give way, and the whole structure came down to the water-line, crashing down in the water. From 10 to 15 were drowned, and a number are missing.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

In addition to the above are the following:

A cannon explosion at Columbus, Ohio, killed two men.

Two men were also fatally injured by an explosion at Utica, New York.

A man and a woman were struck by a train near Troy, and instantly killed.

A railway accident near St. Louis severely injured several persons.

A man was instantly killed at Georgetown, Ohio, by a locomotive.

Near Trenton, a wharf gave way throwing 100 persons in the river, several of whom were drowned, and many injured.

ASSEMBLY CONVENTIONS.

SECOND DISTRICT.

A Republican convention will be held at the Common Council Room, in the city of Janesville, on Saturday, July 19th, 1879, at 2 o'clock p m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention. By order of Committee.

THIRD DISTRICT.

A Republican convention will be held at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, on Wednesday, July 16th, A D 1879, at 2 o'clock p m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention. The towns will be entitled to delegates as follows: Fulton, Milton, and Clinton five delegates each; Harmony, Johnstown, Lima, Turtle, Porter three each; Bradford and La Prairie two each. By order of Assembly District Committee. W. A. MAYHEW, Chairman.

Clinton, Wis., July 1st, 1879.

(The Harness Maker.)
COMMANDMENTS!

1st. When ready, thou shalt come to me and trade.
2d. Thou shalt always keep my name in memory, and forget all others in the same business.
3d. Thou shalt honor me and my men with thy trade; so that thou mayst long live in the land and continue to trade with me.
4th. Thou shalt not buy of men who advertise to sell at cost; auction stores; peddlers, or other sharks, else thou get machine made and spongy leather, and pay double their value.
5th. Thou shalt not raise thy voice against my prices, as my goods are marked at Rock Bottom
6th. Thou shalt not dare to pay for goods in bad money, nor say "chalk it on the slate."
7th. Thou shalt not steal from me, as I want all I have got, and more too.
8th. Thou shalt get good bargains, as I am content to live on small profits.
9th. Thou shalt not ask me to run book accounts, but pay for thy goods in cash or notes, and buy no more than thou canst pay for when thou agreest to.
10th. Thou shalt buy C. H. Payne's Harness coarse and fine, his Trunks and Satchels, Whips, &c., and shall always go to his shop to get your repairing done in preferacne to all others. Thou shalt always get thy money's worth, that thou mayest prosper, and that when in want of any thing in my line, I may see thee again.

From a retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
509 North Seventeenth St., PHILA, Penn., April, 26, 1878.
WM E CLARKE—Dear Sir: HUNT'S REMEDY has cured my wife of Dropsy in its worst form. All hope had left us for months. All say that it is a miracle. Water had dropped from her right limb for months. Forty-eight hours had taken all the extra water from the system. All other means had been tried. None succeeded but HUNT'S REMEDY. ANTHONY ATWOOD.

From Rev E G Taylor, D D, Pastor First Baptist Church.
PROVIDENCE, R I, Jan. 8, 1879
I can testify to the virtue of HUNT'S REMEDY in Kidney Diseases from actual trial, having been greatly benefited by its use. E G TAYLOR

RIDING A SAFETY VALVE.

An Interesting but Ludicrous Incident of the Late War—How an Engineer Kept Up Steam During a Fight.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Stories of personal adventure "by flood and field" during the late civil war are daily finding their way into print, and being added to the already large store of individual reminiscences which make up the inner history of that great intestine struggle. Of course many of these tales are mere fiction—the coinage of active imaginations, but still there are numbers of very interesting and even very romantic ones, which can be vouched for by hundreds who had personal cognizance of them at the time of their occurrence. Of this character is the story subjoined, which, though without a spice of romance to flavor it, and even savoring of the ridiculous, is yet sufficiently interesting to go on record:

The hero of it—"old Jimmy Carr"—is well known in Cincinnati, but owing to an overweening modesty, but few outside the circle of his most intimate friends have ever heard of it, and this, too, although for several years past he has been the engineer in the Enquirer printing department. But it was only recently that it was known to any of the pencil manipulators that old Jimmy had a history, and it was only yesterday that, after considerable skirmishing around to strike the old man in a good humor for spinning a yarn, he was persuaded to narrate his adventure.

"Jimmy Carr" is getting along in years, having been born in 1811, but he is as sprightly and as full of life as many a man a score of years his junior. He is an Irishman, born on the "Green Isle," and he is proud of it, and proud that he first drew breath in the favored section of that "Ould Dart" known as the County Derry.

He came to America in 1835, and took up his abode in this city shortly afterward. Liking the country, he settled down here to work at his business of machinist and engineer, and was always a good citizen and a faithful employe. Of course, he became a full fledged citizen, and a loyal one, too, so that, when the war broke out, although 50 years of age, he was one of the first to engage in the service of his adopted country. He was rather old to begin the profession of arms, but he did the next best thing, he went into the navy, enlisting as assistant engineer on the steamer Queen of the West, a freight boat which had been bought up by the government and altered into a "ram" here in Cincinnati. The vessel, which was under command of Captain Elliott, was ordered South, and it was at the battle of Memphis that "Jimmy Carr" met with this particular adventure, which made him a hero in as peculiar a manner as ever a hero gained the title.

But we give the tale as he tells it:

"It was on the 6th of June," said Jimmy, in relating the story, "that Memphis was taken. I remember it well, for it was a hot day, and I was in a hot place, too, I can tell you. The fleet was lying five miles above Memphis, and the Queen was a volunteer that morning. Early in the day we got orders to move down toward the rebel batteries, but had no sooner got within range than the 'Johnnies' opened fire on us. Our Captain called on Curtis, the first engineer, to let loose, and he did; and we were soon steaming down the river.

"We weren't long under way until we had 150 pounds of steam on, and it still rising. Curtis detailed me to look after the boilers—we had four, which were on deck—and I went off to my post. The first thing I noticed was that the safety-valve wasn't weighted heavy enough for the extra pressure, and the steam was escaping. I couldn't see anything laying around to weight it down with but a large lump of coal. I lifted that on to the lever, but it was no use, as it was tumbled off in a minute or two. By this time we must have had fully 200 pounds of steam on, and on looking out I saw the rebel gunboat, the General Lovell, steaming up and firing at us. We had no guns aboard and only eleven sharp-shooters, and the shot was flying around us pretty lively. I knew it was the Captain's intention to try to sink the Lovell, and I saw that it would never do to allow the steam to escape as it was doing. I had to think quick—there was nothing near that I could weight down the valve with, but I was bound not be beat, and I got astraddle of the lever myself and sat down on it. It was pretty hot, but I stuck it out. I looked out and the Lovell was only a couple of hundred yards off. She stopped to round to, but the Queen was to quick for her, and with a rush we were into her just astern of the wheel, and almost went clean through her. I was so excited that I never took my eyes off her when we were coming up, and just bore my weight down on the lever, never thinking to hold on to anything. When we struck, the shock was so terrible it just knocked me "kiting," head and heels over the boilers. Curtis was watching me, and thought I was killed, and hollered out: "There goes poor Jimmy," but I wasn't gone. I was stunned for a minute, but jumped and climbed over the boilers and straddled the lever again, this time taking a good hold.

"The Lovell sank in about five minutes, but we had hardly time to get clear of her before another rebel craft, the Beauregard steamed up toward us. We treated her the same as we treated the Lovell, but this time I kept my seat and clung on for dear life, and the shock didn't knock me off. Shortly after the Queen, having nothing more to do, drew out from the fight, and I got down from my perch. I felt a little sore, and had a few burns—for it was a hot place I was in—but that was all the worse I was for the adventure.

"Did you ever get a medal for it, Jimmy?" queried the scribe.

"The divil a medal," was the answer, "sure, I didn't expect any. I did nothing but my duty. We were all bound to do the best we could and stick to one another, and we did. I had charge of the boilers and that lever had to be tended to, and I fixed it in the only way I could at the time, so I did no more than my duty."

A Young Man's First "Stovepipe."

Burdette.

Yes, son, you are correct. The first time you wear a stove pipe everybody looks at you. Not, as you may vainly imagine, because you are the first young man who ever wore a stovepipe hat, but because it is apparent to even the old blind man who sits in the back pew, without any cushion in, away back under the gallery, where the poor have the gospel preached at them, that it is the first time ever you wore a hat of that description. Your old father claps one on the back of his head, puts his hands into his pockets, holds up his head, and walks off down the streets in a gale of wind, and never thinks of his hat. But you son, you pull yours on at the most graceful angle it can be posed, and you go teetering along, both hands ready to fly at the hat at the slightest provocation of the ghostliest phantom of a puff of wind. You don't look comfortable, son. Your hat is always trying to come off; you bump it against everything you pass; you rub it the wrong way when you try to brush the dust off it. When you carry it in your hand up the aisle, everybody smiles, because you first hold it by the brim and let the crown tip gracefully over your arm, and, by the time you have hit two or three worshippers in the head with it, you change and turn it under your arm and try to carry it that way without touching it; and, the first thing you do in that pose, you put a woman's eye out with your elbow. Then when you sit down, you put the hat down on the floor, setting it on the brim, a fatal mistake. And then before the sermon is half through, you put your feet on it three times. But never mind; you have to learn some time. Only don't imagine that people never saw anything of the kind before, because they have. And finally, son, if you are only five feet, three inches tall, don't think that a hat three feet five inches high improves your appearance, or makes you look taller. Because it doesn't. It may make you look as though you clerked in a second hand clothing store, but it doesn't make you look taller. By-and-by, when you have worn a high hat two or three years, you will wear it so naturally that it will become you. But the first time —— oh, my son my son!

PROF. HARRIS' RADICAL CURE FOR SPERMATORHŒA.
—THE—
"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

SHAPE & SIZE OF A SEMINAL PASTILLE
A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostrate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc. Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation, Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. ——During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3.—Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5 ——Three boxes lasting three full months, will stop emissions and restore vigor, in the worst cases, $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.
Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected.
Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1879.

THE VALEDICTORY ADDRESSES

Delivered at Beloit College, July 2, 1879, by Will S. Jeffris, of Janesville.

OUR REVERED PRESIDENT:—On this occasion which should be and is one of gladness, we still feel the chilling sensation of a shade of sadness which rests upon the vision of joy. We rejoice with our friends in the completion of our work, yet, with that joy is mingled a sterner feeling, at the thought of the true significance and import of the day. We have reached the last mile-stone of our journey, and we turn to bid "farewell" to you who have so faithfully accompanied us along the devious way. In severing the ties that have united us in the past, we feel assured that we go forth with your benediction and that your interest in us, so manifest in the past, will be none the less real in the future. We are grateful for that kindly spirit of regard for our welfare and, not the least, for that example which you have lived before us. In parting, we leave our best wishes that time may deal gently with you, that years and strength may be given you in your work and that you may rejoice in the more and more abundant reward to be yours.

BELOVED INSTRUCTORS:—Toward you, we have sustained a peculiar relation; with you our association has been pleasant, our intercourse profitable. Upon you more immediately has devolved the arduous task of leading us through the stages of our progress. With you we have sought to solve the "equation" of college life,—so full of unknown quantities; we have "surveyed" the prospect and have roamed the field of classic and modern literature; we have tried to learn the principles of "government" and obedience, as we traveled. With you we have studied the wonders of the earth and heavens. As we stand today upon the height toward which we have journeyed, while the last sands that number the moments of our college life are nearly run, and we look with mingled hope and doubt into the future, we would pay to you the parting tribute due. The lessons you have taught have not been lost, but will in time, we trust, bring forth their proper fruits.

GENTLEMEN OF THE TRUSTEES:—With you we have been less directly connected, but have nevertheless come to honor you for your devotedness to the welfare of the college,—the center about which our common interest gather. Of her noble work in the past we are proud, and our hope is that friends may be raised up, by whose aid its efficiency in its appointed work may be increased. We do, indeed, most sincerely hope that its future sphere of usefulness may be enlarged and its prosperity increased, and that you who have so faithfully discharged your trust in time past, may by guided by like wisdom in the future.

CITIZENS OF BELOIT:—In years now gone we come among you and into your society, strangers; in the time that has passed, our paths of duty have intersected yours, and, in pursuing them, we have paused to drink from the same fountains of pleasure. Much of your joy and sorrow has been ours, and in many things have our interests been common. Your homes you have opened to us, and we have ever found in you kind and sympathizing friends.

To the young ladies of Beloit we are under especial obligation. You have received us at your homes; our association with you has been most congenial. Among your other almost innumerable acts of kindness this your latest tribute of regard,—the beauty which you have thrown about this closing scene, calls for gratitude which words can but poorly express. Among our richest legacies of our college life, we shall cherish your memory. We would greet you with our choicest salaams, and may Fortune smile upon you with the outpouring of her richest stores. To-day we take up our staff to depart anew upon the journey of life, which has led us in such pleasant places among you. Ere that, we feel it our pleasant duty to return you our thanks, a poor recompense, for your many manifestations of kindness and good-will. We go forth to other and new homes; we shall form new acquaintanceships, and enter into new relations. The sun will shine as brightly and the earth with all its beauty, speaks to us as sweetly as we have found them here. Further than this we cannot withdraw the veil that conceals the future. But while we cannot pierce the future, we cannot veil the past, but ever its hallowed memories will linger with us, and we shall delight to roam in thought through the scenes of our young manhood.

MY DEAR CLASSMATES: For a time, the current of life has borne us along the same channel, and in peaceful quiet we have sailed, scarce knowing that storms have raged outside our sphere. To-day we near the sea of active life, upon whose surface we are soon to be scattered, each pursuing his separate course, when each must rely more fully upon himself, and when we shall miss the guidance and direction of the past. But we shall not be separated, I trust, for that singular spirit of harmony which has so characterized us as a class, in spite of our distinctive individuality will unite us but the more firmly in the years to come. The friendships here formed will go with us through life, and we shall often revert with pleasure to joys of college days. Let us cherish the memory of these happy days, for life at best has few enough of them, and in the coming years of care and anxiety they will be as pleasant dreams in which we shall live again in the scenes that form so rich a part of our experience, and to which to-day we bid farewell.

Thought it was a Funeral.

An incident of a rather ludicrous character transpired in an up-town cemetery. The sexton was busily engaged in filling up a hole caused by the removal of a large stump, when a couple of ladies and gentleman stopped, merely out of curiosity, to witness the operation. An elderly woman, clad in mourning, who had been wandering among the tomb-stones, approached the group, and, drawing a dark bordered handkerchief from her pocket, raised it to her eyes and began weeping.

"Poor soul!" she sobbed, and then, turning to one of the party—a lady who was also clad in deep mourning—she inquired:

"Is it your mother?"

"No," was the reply.

"Your father, then?" she surmised.

"No," again responded the lady interrogated.

"Perhaps a dear brother or sister?"

"Neither, I am happy to say," was the response; "he is only filling up a hole."

"Oh," suddenly exclaimed the would-be sympathizer, with a sigh of relief; "it might be worse;" and with this remark she moved away.—Philadelphia Press.

The Law On The Next Census.

As the time for the taking of the next census approaches, much interest is attached to the matter, and as a general misunderstanding exists in regard to the mode of appointing enumerators, the following law in regard to the matter will save much unnecessary correspondence and trouble when properly known. The secretary of the interior, on or before the 1 st day of March, 1880, shall appoint one or more supervisors of the census for each state, but the whole number must not exceed 150. These supervisors shall appoint the enumerators for various counties of the state. Any county exceeding 4,000 in population shall be divided into districts so that no district shall contain more than 4,000 inhabitants. These enumerators shall begin their duties on the first Monday in June, 1880, thus requiring the work to be done in less than thirty days. The compensation will be 2 cents for each inhabitant, 2 cents for each death reported, 10 cents for each farm and 15 cents for each establishment of productive industry. Appointment as enumerators must be adressed to the supervisors of the state when appointed.

Stewart Castle.

Washington Letter to St. Paul Pioneer Press.

It is rumored here that the wife and daughter of ex-Senator Stewart are to return to Washington and reinhabit the great pile of sandstone that is known as Stewart Castle. It is the largest and most expensive house in Washington, but, as the Yankee ladies would think, the $300,000 expended upon it was a sinful waste. It has been closed since the expiration of the Senator's term of office in 1875, and has been advertised for rent at the modest sum of at first $20,000 per annum, and later at $15,000 and $10,000. But no one has had the money to pay such a rental and hold up the house besides, for it will require several thousand a year to heat it alone. The moths have destroyed the greater part of the furniture, which was very handsome and costly, having been made to order in Paris; the fabrics of upholstering having been purchased at the Exposition of 1873. The house was occupied only one year. Miss Stewart was married there, and her baby was born in the house, but after the Senator's term expired and the Emma Mine pulled down his fortune, the family moved to the Pacific Coast, where they have since been.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH
INSTANTLY RELIEVES.

6,000 FEET ABOVE THE SEA.

The following testimonials are from Messrs. J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver, Col., large and influential druggists. They report unprecedentedly large sales and universal satisfaction. No other disease is so alarmingly prevalent in that region. They speak of the following gentlemen as among their best citizens:

SORELY AFFLICTED.

J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver, Col.: Gentlemen,—Prompted by a fellow-feeling for those afflicted with Catarrh, I wish to add my testimony in behalf of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. I have been sorely afflicted with this fearful disease for four years, and have tried every known remedy without avail, until I bought a bottle of the above CURE from you, which gave me almost instant relief. It being a constitutional as well as a local remedy, I believe it to be all that is claimed for it, a Radical Cure for Catarrh.

Very truly yours, WM. AMETIVE,
Denver, Sept. 28, 1878. with Jenson, Bliss & Co.

GREATLY AFFLICTED.

Messrs. J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver: Gentlemen,—I take pleasure in recommending SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH to all who are afflicted with this disease. I was greatly afflicted with it for a long time, and cured it with two bottles of the above CURE. About a year afterwards I was again taken with Catarrh quite severely, and immediately sent for another bottle, which fixed me all right, giving me relief from the first dose. I am confident that this remedy will do all that is claimed for it, and more too. Wishing you success in its introduction, I am very truly yours,

A. W. SMITH,
Denver, Oct. 4, 1878. of Smith & Doll.

TRIED EVERYTHING.

Messrs. J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver, Col.: Gentlemen,—I have used SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, and it has given perfect satisfaction. I have tried almost everything, and it is the only thing that has given me relief. I therefore take pleasure in recommending its use to all afflicted with Catarrh of any kind, and offer this as my testimony to its benefits.

Very truly, W. S. DECKER
Denver, Oct. 1, 1878.

REV. J. H. WIGGIN SAYS:

One of the best remedies for Catarrh, nay, the best remedy we have found in a lifetime of suffering, is SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. It is not unpleasant to take through the nostrils, and there comes with each bottle a small glass tube for use in inhalation. It clears the head and throat so thoroughly that, taken each morning on rising, there are no unpleasant secretions and no disagreeable hacking during the entire day, but an unprecedented clearness of voice and respiratory organs. —Rev. J. H. Wiggin, in Dorchester (Mass.) Beacon.

THE BEST OF ALL LINIMENTS FOR MAN OR BEAST.

When a medicine has infallibly done its work in millions of cases for more than a third of a century; when it has reached every part of the world; when numberless families everywhere consider it the only safe reliance in case of pain or accident, it is pretty safe to call such a medicine

THE BEST OF ITS KIND.

This is the case with the Mexican Mustang Liniment. Every mail brings intelligence of a valuable horse saved, the agony of an awful scald or burn subdued, the horrors of rheumatism overcome, and of a thousand-and-one other blessings and mercies performed by the old reliable Mexican Mustang Liniment.

All forms of outward disease are speedily cured by the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment.

It penetrates muscle, membrane and tissue, to the very bone, banishing pain and curing disease with a power that never fails. It is a medicine needed by everybody, from the ranchero, who rides his over the solitary plains, to the merchant prince, and the woodcutter who splits his foot with the axe.

It cures Rheumatism when all other applications fail.

This wonderful

LINIMENT

speedily cures such ailments of the HUMAN FLESH as Rheumatism, Swellings, Stiff Joints, Contracted Muscles, Burns and Scalds, Cuts, Bruises and Sprains, Poisonous Bites and Stings, Stiffness, Lameness, Old Sores, Ulcers, Frostbites, Chilblains, Sore Nipples, Caked Breast, and indeed every form of external disease.

It is the greatest remedy for the disorders and accidents to which the BRUTE CREATION are subject that has ever been known. It cures

Sprains, Swinny, Stiff Joints, Founder, Harness Sores, Hoof Diseases, Foot Rot, Screw Worm, Scab, Hollow Horn, Scratches, Windgalls, Spavin, Farcy, Ringbone, Old Sores, Poll Evil, Film upon the Sight and every other ailment to which the occupants of the Stable and Stock Yard are liable.

A twenty-five cent bottle of Mexican Mustang Liniment has often saved a valuable horse, a life on crutches, or years of torture.

It heals without a Scar. It goes to the very root of the matter, penetrating even the bone.

It cures everybody, and disappoints no one. It has been in steady use for more than twenty-five years, and is positively

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

GONE FOURTH.

How the Natal Day was Filled with Events of Special Interest.

Addresses by Governor Smith, Hon. C. G. Williams, Hon. W. C. Whitford, and Gen. E. E. Bryant.

The Show of Military and the Victory of the Janesville Guards.

The Show at the Fair and the Picnic in the Grove.

The Start for Freeport.

The Fourth has come forth and gone forth, and is no more. The day opened up well, and continued good natured. The wetness of the evening before had dampened the dust so that it could not rise from its languor. The skies were cloudy, and the air cool as though old Sol had hidden his face under a parasol made especially for the occasion. There was clearing weather in the afternoon so that it became warmer, but not uncomfortably so except to those who had an active part in the celebration. There was the usual and needless amount of noise, commencing with the break of day salute and closing late at night with the scattered squibs.

Among the first military symptoms which broke out yesterday was the appearance of the Oshkosh Guards, who arrived on the 7 o'clock train from the north looking pretty well tired out having been on a slow freight train since half-past 10 o'clock the night previous. Gabe Bouck's pleasing countenance did not loom up, and a query called out the fact that he only arrived home from Washington a short time before the boys started for Janesville, and could not take command of his company. He left that honor to Captain Rubey, a very efficient drill master and an old army officer, who has smelt powder often, and who is one of the lieutenants of the Oshkosh Guards. On arriving at the depot they formed and marched to the Myers house where arrangements for their accommodation had been made by the Agricultural Society, whose guests they were. This fact relieved our militiamen, in their judgment, of the necessity of greeting their fellow-soldiers at the depot, the earliness of the hour rendering it rather inconvenient to do so. A little earlier rising and a more cordial greeting would probably have suited the Oshkosh boys better, for they have "fun with the boys" in an entirely different manner whenever any organization visits Oshkosh. Still the visitors lived through it, and marching down the street were soon safely sheltered and kindly cared for.

A short time later the Monroe train arrived. It was heavily loaded with humanity, including the Band who also wended their way toward the center of the city.

Not long after the sound of martial music was heard upon the streets, which were by this time well filled with gazers on and visitors. This was the starting of the procession for the picnic grounds up the river. The Bower City Band in their new uniforms, and playing stirring music led the van, followed by the Veterans. The members of the Fire Department and Concordia Society joined in this procession, and after marching up and down some of the principal streets, they started for Buob's Grove, preceded and followed by a large number of people. Again there was music—this time coming from the Monroe Band, who stood in front of the Myers house for a time, and then proceeded to the armory of the Guards. The Guards fell in and with the Band marched across the river, and being joined by the Oshkosh Guards, another procession was formed to escort the Governor and dignitaries to the Fair grounds. A large number of persons on foot and in teams also wended their way thither. On reaching the grounds the Governor and his party were allowed to amuse themselves in looking at some of the articles on exhibition, while the Oshkosh Guards were left to stroll about as suited them best, the Janesville Guards turning about and marching back to the city again. Shortly after 12 o'clock the exercises of the day opened, the speakers being stationed in the judges' stand. The Monroe Band discoursed some of its best music. Mr. O. H. Fethers read the Declaration of Independence, in clear, full tones, and with his usual elocutionary skill. Dr. Whiting, who presided, then introduced Governor Smith, who was received with cheers, and who spoke in substance as follows:

GOVERNOR SMITH'S REMARKS.

I esteem it a privilege to have the opportunity of joining in the exercises of this day and to contribute, if possible, in any degree to the interest of this occasion. I expected as you also did, that gentlemen of national reputation as statesmen, and to whose eloquent words senates and houses of representatives have listened in wrapt attention, would address you. I share with you the disappointment that one of these could not be here, but I congratulate you and myself that one is here, and I share with you in a desire to hear his eloquent voice again. It is not proper, nor is it expected that I should make any extended remarks, but I feel like giving a few words of commendation and congratulation. This is called a County Fair. Considering the season of the year, the fact that this is July, considering that the storm of yesterday prevented many from bringing hither many articles which would otherwise have been exhibited, we must consider this Fair a success, even for Rock county. It does not take the experience of a farmer to appreciate the display of stock, the machinery, the fruits of of intelligence and toil, and the evidences of what can be done by our own people. All these different departments of development tend to the emancipation and advancement of our fellow men. Is not this, and are not all similar exhibitions something more than agricultural fairs? I see not only the products of agriculture, but the people are here, showing evidence of thrift, skill and industry. Shall not the names of such societies be so changed as to indicate that they are exhibitions of the people as well as of the products? Not many years ago efforts were made to set aside the agriculturalists and array them against all other classes. These efforts failed, as they ought to fail. A like effort is being made in the cities to array certain classes of laborers against other classes of society. I do not care to stop to discuss this question now, but merely to suggest that all classes working together and harmoniously form the highest and best type of civilization. In such a community it is the office of the farmer to create, to bring forth the fruitage of the soil, which by subtle forces is transformed into the brain and brawn which tunnels mountains, builds railroads and bridges, erects school houses, forms constitutions, makes laws and governs wisely a Republic. No class lives for itself. All cooperate with the farmer, the mechanic, and the professional man, and thus work out the problem of man's possibilities. The past and present success of the people of Rock county, material, social, and intellectual, is due to the healthy diversity of pursuits and the division of labor. I thought of making a brief reference to the part of the citizen-soldiers, who have contributed so much to the enjoyability of this day. I wish to commend their bearing, drill, and discipline. They are indeed an honor to themselves and their officers, and to the cities they represent. The existence of such bodies of men, and the knowledge that they will gladly respond to any needed call, is the ounce of preventive without which the pound of cure might become necessary. We must not expect to be always exempt from such calamities as have fallen on other people. In time of peace we must prepare for war. I remember my first visit to Rock county. In 1843 I first stepped foot upon its soil. A little settlement was then resting where this beautiful city now stands, and to-day I cannot but reflect on the great progress not only here but throughout the State. Its entire population did not exceed 200,000 then. In 1836 it was only 11,000; in 1840, 30,000; in 1850, 300,000; in 1860, between 700,000 and 800,000; in 1870 over a million, in 1875 about 1,200,000, and it is thought that in 1880 it will reach 1,500,000. Her growth is without a parallel in the history of the world, and yet it is in its infancy. If we are true to ourselves, true to the spirit of our State motto "Forward," we cannot but become one of the first states in the Union. We may well view the past with satisfaction and pride, and the future with hopefulness. Every page of our history sparkles with heroic acts and deeds of virtue. In morality, in generous charities, in rapid development, Wisconsin ranks the peer of any of the states of the Union. In conclusion, let me say that as a Fair, as a celebration, as a pioneer festival, as a military display, as a gathering of the people, this day shall long be remembered. Its suggestions and inspirations should cause the tenderest and most profound feelings of patriotism to linger long in the memory. I thank you for the attention you have given me, for the many courtesies which I have always received at your hands, and may you rest assured that the esteem and respect thus indicated are fully and heartily reciprocated on my part.

After the cheers had subsided Dr. Whiting rose and remarked that there were some things that Rock county claimed as peculiarly her own, and while like her broad acres, she turns them over sometimes for the public good, yet she takes them back again to her heart and says "mine." Such a one he introduced to the audience as who was received with hearty cheers. Mr. Williams paid a pleasing tribute to the Governor's address, and then indulged in some facetious remarks which called forth much laughter. He said that he was determined to fulfill his part of the performance, and was bound to keep his promise to make a speech, or perish in the attempt. When he reached the speaker's stand he began to think there was a conspiracy to prevent him. The door was locked, but they burst this open. There found no chairs, but they improvised benches. There was no water,—another plan to balk his effort, as they knew his windmill ran by water. But having overcome all these obstacles he was bound to make a speech. Mr. Williams read a telegram received from Senator Carpenter stating that he was sorry he could not leave Washington for several days and could not be present to speak. He also had in his hands a letter which he was requested to read in which Mr. Carpenter said that he did not think his constituents would warrant him in leaving the Senate at this time. Mr. Williams said he would not read this letter for a few of his hearers might draw some inference as to the other end of the house. Mr. Williams by a few funny stories and humorous remarks shook up the audience well, and put them into the best of nature, and then poured forth some of his eloquence based ongood common sense, and with a broad view of some of the questions of the day. His address was grand, and called forth great applause.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT WHITFORD

was then introduced and was cordially received. His heart being in the educational work, he dwelt mostly upon that, and the high rank which Wisconsin occupied in this field. He gave force to a very practical suggestion that at these fairs there should be a showing of the products of the school-room, as this would give an impetus to teachers and scholars.

ADJUTANT GENERAL BRYANT

was the next speaker. He said he might claim military exemption from speaking, as soldiers were supposed to be men of deeds rather than words. He congratulated his hearers on having Rock county for a home, and urged them to prove faithful to the great trust given them, for unto each generation belonged a work none other could do.

The speeches being over, the company dispersed for dinner.

THE OLD SETTLERS' GATHERING.

THE PRIZE DRILL.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the military drill was held, the prizes being $100 and $50 and the competitors being the Oshkosh Guards, and Janesville Guards. Both companies showed up strong and did most excellent work calling forth applause from the large crowd which skirted the parade ground. The judges were Adjutant-General Bryant, Col. Watrous, and Col. Sale, of Green Bay. They watched every movement closely, and marked each. On footing the figures it was found that the Janesville Guards had won the $100. The formal announcement of the decision was no surprise to the crowd nor to the soldiery as it became evident to all, long before the drill ended, that the Janesville boys excelled, and it needed no military eye to notice the difference. The Oshkosh men are a finely drilled company, and are worthy of high praise, but the Janesville Guards excelled them in many respects, and won the prize fairly. Some of the military visitors present yesterday were completely surprised at the way the Janesville boys showed up, and were not slow in pronouncing them the best drilled and best officered company in the State. Our own citizens felt proud of them as well they might, and too much cannot be said in their praise. The Oshkosh Guards took their defeat in the same gentlemanly manner which characterized all their actions here, and through their commanding officer paid a very complimentary tribute to the victors. The Oshkosh Guards made a very favorable impression on our citizens, and though they were not permitted to carry away the first prize, they carry with them the well wishes of many who could not but admire their soldierly appearance and their gentlemanly bearing. The bayonet drill of the Janesville Guards was wonderful, and as the Oshkosh Guards were "not up" in this, they frankly conceded this point in the favor of our home company. After General Bryant had formally awarded the prizes, Captain Rubey, of the Oshkosh Guards, made a very handsome reply closing by addressing the General with "General, you are a wise judge." The Oshkosh boys were frank and gentlemanly in their concession, and by their conduct showed that they merited much more courteous treatment than they received here yesterday. Many of our citizens could not but blush with shame to see the lack of social attentions and courtesies. The Oshkosh boys came from a city where the spirit of hospitality is shown to a wonderful degree, and to arrive here without any greeting, to be turned loose upon the Fair grounds to amuse themselves, and to scatter about after the prize drill, as strangers and wanderers, will not cause them to have any very tender feelings toward those whose natural place it was to pay such attention as is usual under such circumstances. It is well known that if any military company went from here to Oshkosh, no matter what hour of day or night they should arrive, they would have been received by the Oshkosh militiamen in a body, and as an organization and as individuals, they would have been cordially and hospitably treated by the Oshkosh soldiers. It would be well if the experiences of yesterday would engender a more generous attention to visitors, by those of our home folk who are interested in a like phase of business or pleasure.

THE FAIR PROPER

was not even a first class failure. There was very little in any of the departments to interest the mass of Fair-going people, and in this respect the experience of holding an exhibition in July has proved a signal failure. Had it not been for the eloquent speakers and the military display there would not have been enough people to have kept a solitary ticket seller from going to sleep on his post. As it was there was a crowd drawn thither to hear and see the great men, and witness the movements of militiamen. Few visited the departments to see the articles exhibited. The show of farm machinery was large indeed, but not many cared to stand out in the heat and hear some enthusiastic salesman tell the merits of his machine.

The stock show was slim. Among those who exhibited and took first premiums were Guy Sherman, T. McCue, Thos. Rooney, and J. W. Allen.

Dr. Judd and E. A. Douglass showed fine roadsters. T. Bowle's fine stallion took a first premium of course, and H. B. Fales took a second. Among other horses and colts shown were those by H. Harper, N. Hogan, Alex Miller, Erbert Gleason, Dr. C. Loftus Martin, and Wm. Menzies. Mr. Menzies had some very fine horse flesh there, on which he easily secured first premiums, for mare and three of her colts, and on mares or geldings between three or four years and over four years. He could have gained premiums with such stock in almost any competition, for it was indeed fine. Mr. Menzies is a thorough stock man and evidently believes that the best is none too good. His stock yesterday excited much praise among those who looked upon it, and it deserves much more than a passing notice. Russell Parmeley and R. J. Rooney showed single carriage horses and took premiums.

The hog pens were mostly empty. J. A. Hoskins, H. P. Fales, and T. Rooney showed stock and were given premiums, also Ligory Rooney, and Leo Rooney.

The sheep show was no better as to quantity. First premiums were given to stock shown by D O Rooney, Leo Rooney, R J Rooney, Wm. Menzies.

The poultry coops looked better. First premiums were awarded to fowl shown by J H Field, Fred Keating, C J Blakely, Wm Sherer, James McGowan, Guy Sherman, Charlie Ott, N E Hawley, and Anna Blakely.

In the cuisine department first premiums were awarded Mrs. Rebecca Follansbee, Miss N C Burns, Miss Anna Blakely, Miss Ida B Fales, Mrs J A Denniston, Mrs W C Moore, Miss Cavaney, T Fatzinger, Mrs M L Richardson, Miss Gertie Kellogg.

In the department of needle work and fancy articles, premiums were given Miss M E Richardson, Miss Kate R Fifield, Mrs J A Denniston, Miss N C Bump, Mrs L Langley, Miss Flora Baldwin, Miss Floy Miner, Miss Edith L Rice, and Miss Lutie Titcomb.

In the horticultural department George J Kellogg, S Heimstreet, Mrs N C Bowerman, Mrs F S Lawrence, Mrs A H Caldwell, H G Roberts, and Miss Myra Bliss made exhibits which took first premiums. L L Kellogg and Miss Kittie Carr took the R M Bostwick special premiums.

Hodge & Buchholz took premiums on carriages, and S L James on platform wagon. The Doty Manufacturing Co., J Proctor & Co., T F Murray, S M Edwards, W H Graves and Matthew Patterson took premiums on various articles in the miscellaneous department.

There was no racing of any account. The stockholders' race for the enormous purse of $6 was won by R J Rooney, J E Gleason taking second money, and George Sherman third. No record.

ON THE PICNIC GROUNDS.

There was a rush for the shady groves yesterday, and the picnic given by the Veterans, the Bower City Band and the Concordia Society was a grand success in all respects. It is estimated that there were 5,000 people on the grounds, and the usual features were indulged in. Everybody had a good time and peace reigned with the exception of an occasional little skirmish near the beer stands. Many more persons would have attended the picnic had not the Lotos broken some part of her machinery in the morning, and it was after noon before it could be repaired. The target shooting created much interest. It showed well the force of the bullets. At a distance of 300 yards, bullets hitting the target passed through 3-16 inch boiler iron. There were games, athletic sports, plenty to eat and drink, and general social doings to fill the time well.

THE VETERANS' ENTERTAINMENT.

Last night the Janesville Veterans gave an entertainment at Leppin's hall which called forth a crowd, and which proved in all respects a success. There were tableaux, readings, and music, and a silent drill under direction of Lieut. La Grange. Governor Smith was present and made a few remarks of a complimentary nature, commending the Veterans for their appearance and evident enthusiasm. Following the entertainment was a dance in Apollo hall. All who attended these doings are full of words of praise, and the treasury of the Vets was the recipient of tangible evidence that their efforts to please have been appreciated.

OFF FOR FREEPORT.

This morning a special train bore the Governor and his party, together with the Guards, Veterans and Bower City Band to Freeport to attend the grand review and encampment. The procession was formed on East Milwaukee street. The Guards took the place of honor in furnishing the escort to the Governor, but it is understood that on reaching Freeport the Veterans will take that position. The train started about 10 o'clock, and as the Oshkosh Guards left last night, the city for the time being is without its usual military protection, but it will doubtless be safe.

BLOODY SLASHING.

William Maher Receives Six Stabs and is Lying at the Point of Death—Arrest of the Alleged Assailants.

A fearful stabbing affray occurred last night near the Union house, which will probably result in the death of the assaulted man. It appears that there was some slight trouble among a crowd of young fellows who were in the Union house bar room, and William Maher interfered in some way in their quarrel. Shortly after he went out he was attacked, knocked down and stabbed. His coat shows nine distinct cuts and his body bears six wounds, two on the head, one of which nearly scalped him, one in the right shoulder penetrating the cavity of the chest, one on the left side, puncturing the lung near the heart, and causing profuse hemorrage and escape of air. The wounded man was at once cared for by Dr. Palmer, and is now lying at the Myers house in a very critical condition, and his death may come at any minute. The wounded man charges two neighbors with having thus assaulted him, one being Jerry Haley, who he says knocked him down and kicked him, and the other being James Reardon, whom he says did the stabbing. Marshal Russell at once arrested Haley, who is a married man about thirty years old, and he was locked up in jail. Reardon had left town in company with five other young men, who were driving along toward Johnstown, when Marshal Russell appeared upon the scene. The boys were full of drink, and had revolvers, he was informed, so as he drove past them he called attention to one of their tugs being loose. As they stopped to see to it, he nabbed his man, handcuffed him, and brought him back to jail.

All the parties named live in Johnstown and are neighbors. Maher is about twenty years old, but in spite of his youthful vigor, it is thought he cannot long survive the injuries received. Reardon is about eighteen years old. On being searched his shirt was found to be bloody, and the knife with which is supposed to have done the cutting was found in his brother's pocket, with some of the wadding of the wounded man's coat attached to the blade. The two prisoners will be held to await the result of Maher's injuries. An ante-mortem statement will probably be made by Maher before night. This afternoon Reardon's brother was also arrested for taking a part in the affray.

BRIEFLETS.

—There will be the usual services at Christ church to-morrow.

—George Grundy was kicked by his stallion yesterday, and suffered a fracture of one of his ribs.

—One young fellow had his lip split open in a saloon row yesterday, his assailant using a ten-pin for a weapon.

—Mr. Vanderburg, of Johnstown, was run over by a buggy yesterday on the road to the Fair ground, and had his left ear almost literally torn off.

—Mrs. J. H. Nemple, of Norfolk, Virginia wife of Captain Wemple of the 13th Wisconsin, who formerly resided it Janesville, is in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. LaGrange.

—Dillon and the Wallack Combination showed to good houses both Thursday and Friday nights. The first night they played well but last night they greatly disappointed the audience.

—The Veterans dance Thursday night was rather of a fizzle. Too hot, too much going on elsewhere, and too few dancers. Their entertainment last night more than made up for it though.

—This morning Judge Pritchard's son and a son of Mrs. Edward McKey were handling a revolver, and by some accident each received a wound, the former having a finger nipped, and the latter getting a flesh wound in the thigh.

—The Monroe Band tarry with us today to play at the Fair grounds. They are not only elegantly uniformed but they do play finely and are a credit to any city. More than that they are rattling good fellows on general principles.

—St. Patrick's Temperance Society had a most successful festival and dance last evening. The receipts were over $300, there being present 218 couples, not counting those who had complimentaries. It was one of the events of the Fourth.

—We are in receipt of the sad tidings that Rev. O. F. Curtis, better known as Father Curtis, of Emerald Grove, died in Nebraska, at his son's home, July 1. His remains were brought to Emerald Grove where they are to be interred to-day.

—It is reported here that the Watson family have been released from their engagement with Burr Robbins, and that they are to start for Cuba to spend two years there, and that Van Zandt and the Holland Brothers are to join Robbins' show.

—A son of C. Lackner was turning somersaults in the haymow of the Union house barn, this morning, when by some bad turn he pitched out of the window, falling a distance of ten or twelve feet to the ground. One shoulder was dislocated, and he received also some serious internal injuries.

—Thursday night the Bower City Band and the Janesville Guards together with some invited guests gathered at the residence of W. T. Vankirk and had a joyful social time, after which they proceeded to the residence of Hon. Ham. Richardson, where Governor Smith and wife were being greeted by a large number of our citizens.

—The demurrers to the complaint in the water-case of Lohimiller against the Indian Ford Dam Company, are being argued to-day before the Circuit Court. The plaintiff demands damages for flowage to the amount of fifteen thousand dollars, and the abatement of the dam. George W. Bird, Esq., of Jefferson, appears for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Cassoday, Ruger and Jackson for the defense.

—Governor Smith having declined a formal reception on Thursday night, the residence of Hon. H. Richardson was then open to the public, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the evening, a goodly number of citizens called upon him in an informal manner. Those who thus paid their respects to our worthy Governor were most cordially received by him and his estimable wife, and were most generously entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Richardson. The Bower City Band gave the Chief Magistrate a pleasing serenade, and the Guards paid their respects to him Mrs. W. W. Craig, of Nashville, Tenn., who has created such a furore here by her wonderful soprano voice, kindly gave several songs which were received with great enthusiasm. Mrs. H. A. Smith also gave some pleasing music. The occasion was a most happy one in all respects.

PERSONAL.

—Fred Quinn, of Elgin, celebrated at his Janesville home.

—Hon. W. H. Washburn, of Waukesha, saw the Fourth in Janesville.

—Mr. Chenoweth, the Secretary of the Monroe Band, celebrated in Janesville.

—Miss Estella Griswold left the city, this afternoon, to visit the Wisconsin Dells and other points of interest.

—Editor Booth, of the Monroe Sentinel, was exchanging happy greetings with his Janesville friends yesterday. He's alive all over.

—Charley Haselton, son of City Treasurer Haselton, spent the Fourth in this City, and returned to-day by way of Milwaukee.

—Col. Calkins, of the Sunday Telegraph, and his estimable lady, passed the Fourth in Janesville, and were warmly greeted by old friends here.

—Quartermaster General George E. Bryant, also Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, honored the city with his presence yesterday, as one of the Governor's staff.

—Col. Watrous, the great Temple of Honor man, and the warm handed and big hearted friend of everybody, was in the city celebrating, being one of the Governor's staff.

—George Davis spent the Fourth in the city. He is now a member of the firm of Ward & Co., of Chicago, tailors and gents' furnishing goods dealers, and is said to be doing a fine business.

—Mr. Dexter G. Tracy who was so ill at Madison is now at home and has so far recovered as to be able to be out upon the streets some. Many are those who hope for his speedy and full recovery.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles De Berard, of Norwood Park, Ill., spent the Fourth in this city. Mr. De Berard returned this morning, but his wife and the little ones will remain several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Powers, and others.

COLLEGE CONCERNS.

Further Doings During Commencement Week at Milton College—A Further Showing of Good Thoughts and Well-Chosen Words.

The exercises of Commencement week at Milton began on Friday evening, June 27, with a sermon before the College Christian Association, preached by President Bascom, of the State University. The Chapel was beautifully decorated with evergreens, and over the rostrum tastefully arranged the words, "No Cross, no Crown."

President Bascom's first words were, "Behold, Thou desirest truth in the most inward parts:" If we could not consider the past, and thus gain a knowledge of the future, truth would be unknown to us. There is a flow of forces between these two periods of time, and it is because the past and future are thus made one, that truth is of such worth. We are masters of physical forces to some extent,—can utilize them to aid us in our living. Nature has provided constructive energies which are moving everywhere around us, and it is our duty to understand them. We guide society by knowing truth. The same principle is the foundation of divine government, whose forces may also be known by us, and which constitute our spiritual functions.

Truth is a knowledge of facts; truthfulness, a rendering of this knowledge, not mechanically, but rationally. Truth in society is truthfulness; truth in belief is science; truth in action is religion.

The fundamental requisite to speak the truth, is to know it. The lines of truth are the lines of organization; the lines of truthlessness the lines of disorganization. Sin sprang from one lie, and has continued to widen ever since. There is no room for Deity, until there are facts on which Deity can rest. Truth is before knowledge, religion or character. Duplicity is the eternal damnation of the world. A truth is always accompanied by a lie. Nature ever fights against a lie. The sympathy of truth is seen in friendship. A nation's character must be founded on truth. The Greeks were liars. They lived on terms of slaughter and perished from dishonesty. Italy has all vice concealed under hypocrisy. There is no nation so truthful as the English. The French admit this in their novels. There is no national character so dominant as that of the English. We inherit this love of truth in part, and have in part lost it from foreign infusion. Politics has become a means of untruthfulness. The political papers can see no good in an opposer, no evils in an ally. The second form of truth is in science. Our age desires to find the truth of the universe, and hence is an age of great inquiry. A development of conscience has been brought about just here by candid scientific research. Science has become more honest than religion itself. The desire to push into inquiry has been called irreverant; but there should be no outside restraints, except what reason dictates. Every thing must be considered according to its nature. Science is too hasty in its inquiry; religion is too timid.

The highest field of truth is a show of it in conduct; this is religion. Religion is not belief, but conduct founded on belief. Science is the beautiful cottage; but religion the temple. Science may be truth without being religious; but when thoroughly scientific, it must be religious A comprehensive view of our natures is the highest truth of character,—this is religion. The man is the greatest who stands nearest God. There are facts we may know which constitute a correct moral law. The religious spirit is a desire to know all the facts of our lives. The true scientific spirit is manifested when we put all at stake for a knowledge of the truth, and this spirit should rise into the religious nature. There can be no conflict between science and religion, save where one misconstrues the truth. Religion stands in need of nothing more than it does of science. Science cannot be safe and progressive until it knows the religious quality. There is spirit and form in everything—the evidence of a God. There are clear sounds of truth in the air around us, and happy is he who hears them; but he is highest blest who hears the spirit's whisperings that they convey with them. Bear truth into business, politics, science and religion as the highest authority on which you can rely.

OROPHILIAN LYCEUM.

On Monday evening, June 30, College Chapel was well filled to listen to the following programme, prepared for their regular annual public session:

1—Called to order by J N Humphrey, President.
2—Prayer—Rev Dr Wardner.
3—Music, Quartet—Eulalie.
4—Opening Oration—The French Revolution, M G Stillman, Milton.
5—Oration—Man's Humanity to Man, J Z McLay, Rock Prairie.
6—Music—Song and Chorus—Old Uncle Daniel.
7—Oration—The Quest of Life, J C Barthoff, Whitewater.
8—Oration—The Political Arena, H M Ernst, Alden, Minn
9—Music—Quartet—Beautiful Starlight.
10—Paper—The Orophilian Standard. E Simons, Walworth.
11—Music—Song—Camelia and Rose.
12—Oration—Action, R Barlass, Rock Prairie.
13—Closing Oration—Macbeth and Iago, S Plantz, Emerald Grove.
14—Music—Quartet—Music.
15—Adjournment.

The music of the evening was furnished by home talent, the singers being Miss H J Hayen, soprano; Mrs Heritage, alto; Mr Anderson, basso; George Post, tenor; assisted by Messrs Brown and Larkin, with Miss Matie Goodrich as organist. Their selections gave good satisfaction and were rendered in such a manner as to have it said that the musical part of the entertainment was better than common; and that is saying a good deal in their favor.

Mr. Stillman's oration was well written and committed, but rather lacked life and vigor in delivery.

It was Mr. McLay's first effort on the rostrum, and he did himself great credit. He made a good appearance on the stage, and spoke his well-written production plainly and distinctly.

Mr. Bartholf's oration was excellent in every respect. Mr. B. has good control of his voice, and speaks with great earnestness. With careful training he may become an orator of no mean attainments.

The subject matter of Mr. Ernst's oration was of the most sensible kind. The ideas he advocated should be adopted by every young man starting out in active life. This was the gentleman's first oration, and he delivered it in good style, which he will no doubt improve upon in future efforts.

Mr. Simons presented a very creditable paper. His editorial was quite spicy and somewhat different from most of those presented on such occasions. The paper had some good articles, interspersed with spicy locals that were highly appreciated by all, especially those who understood just what they meant. Mr. S. read clearly and distinctly, so that all heard what he had in store for them.

Mr. Barlass this evening gave his first oration. It was, indeed, a production of great merit as to composition, thought and delivery. His manner was pleasing, his voice clear, his delivery forcible, and his gestures appropriate. We shall want him "in programme" again.

Mr. Plantz' oration was a carefully written one, requiring a good knowledge of the characters of Macbeth and Iago. Mr. Plantz did not speak with so much energy as commonly, owing to a rather low state of health, brought on by over-work. But it was one of the best of the evening and received well merited applause, as, indeed, did all the speakers. This session was good throughout and well appreciated by the audience. The speakers in both public sessions got flowers enough to last till New Years—if they'll keep. One orator says he he had thirty-one thrown at him, and succeeded in dodging them all. But he was more successful than the owners of some gay hats that were knocked into pi by the shower.
